Olympic Travel Was The Best!

by David Neilson

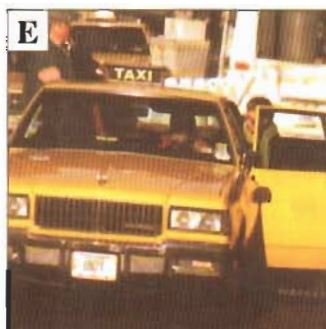

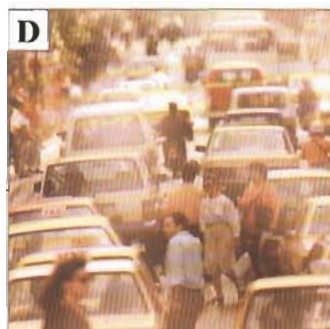

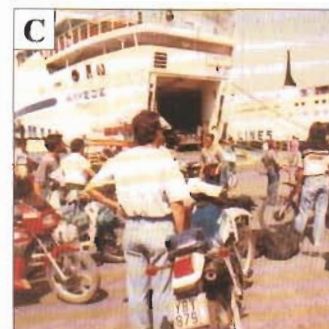

- 1 I was in Greece for the Olympic Games last year and I've been thinking about why I enjoyed myself so much. One of the reasons was that it was so easy to get everywhere. I used a taxi once or twice, when I had to go to do an interview and I wasn't sure of the address. Taxi drivers know the streets. For all the other travelling I did, though, I used public transport – mainly the Metro and special buses. And I must say, it was easier than I expected.
- 2 The trains and buses ran frequently, and you could connect with boats for the islands. I went to Paros for the windsurfing, for example, and took the train right to the harbour for the ferry. Simple and fast! Later, I took the train to Olympia for the Shot Put competition, and flew to Crete after the Games for a vacation. I really needed a rest by that time! But not because of the transport. All my travel had been very easy.
- 3 Whenever I went to one of the big stadiums, I went a bit early, before the crowds that always come at the last minute. At the main stadium in Athens, I had to walk for about 20 minutes from the train to my seat. That was about the same for people who drove their cars – and really, not many people did. Cars weren't allowed to go close to the stadium, so it was wise to leave the car at home, or at a parking area near a train station.
- 4 At the same time, there were special lanes in the main streets and on the motorways. Only the buses and cars that carried Olympic athletes could travel in these lanes. That made car driving a bit more difficult than usual. So people were encouraged to take public transport. Friends told me that there had been adverts on television for the month before the Games and the message was 'Leave your car at home!'.
5 The result of all these efforts was that there were fewer cars in the streets. It was easier for everyone – including thousands of visitors – to get around and the air was cleaner. It really makes you think! If we always made it less appealing to drive in the city, and easier to get about by public transport, life would be a lot better during major events like the Olympics and the rest of the time, as well.

Match a picture with each paragraph in 'Olympic Travel Was The Best'.

Mark its letter, A to F, on Answer Sheet B. You will use only five of the letters.

1. Paragraph 1
2. Paragraph 2
3. Paragraph 3
4. Paragraph 4
5. Paragraph 5

Decide if these statements about 'Olympic Travel Was The Best' are true or not.

On Answer Sheet B, mark A for True, B for False or C if the text Doesn't Say.

6. Neilson used taxis for most of his trips in the city.
7. It was difficult for Neilson to get from Athens to other parts of Greece.
8. Neilson said it took about the same time to walk from the train or car park to the stadium.
9. The cost of petrol was another reason people used cars less.
10. Neilson thinks it's a good idea to get people to use public transport more.

A. to    B. over    C. on    D. back    E. outside    F. of    G. from

FAME EXPERIENCE 1: Lara Larissa

I was very nervous when I got (EX) the studio. All the other girls were nervous, too. We waited (16) the big room. When the first girl came out, she was crying, and one of the other girls got up and left.

It seemed like forever. Then it was my turn and I went in. There were three judges and they all looked very serious. That made it worse. Then the man (17) the left smiled and told me to give my music to the pianist. I walked (18) to the piano and tried not to fall down on the way.

Then the pianist started to play, and my song came to me like it always did at home. (I took singing lessons, but I really practised more in my bedroom in front (19) the mirror.) To tell you the truth, I don't remember my performance, though. The pianist played, I sang, and suddenly I had finished.

The judges smiled and said, 'Well, that wasn't bad. We'll call you and tell you the time to come (20).' I couldn't believe it! I was going to be on television!

READING & USAGE EXERCISE 3: Numbers 21 to 25

Choose the correct word or phrase below the story to fill each gap.

FAME EXPERIENCE 2: Angie Barbari

I'm a very good singer and I practise a lot. I (21) all my favourite singers on TV and try to sing like them. My friends say I'm great and that I'll be a star someday.

At the television studio, though, I had bad luck. The judges (22) look very friendly. They told me to give my music to the pianist. What music? At home, I sing with the television or a CD. But they didn't have a CD player. So I (23) to sing by myself. It was awful! I tried to dance around and look like a star, but the judges (24) it. When I'd finished, they said, 'Sorry, Angie, you need to practise more.'

I had expected to be on television, and they didn't want me! I was so angry and disappointed. I started to cry and just ran out of the room, out of the studio, and all the way to my mother's car. I (25) give up, though. I'm going to get a singing teacher and work hard. Then I'll try again.

READING & USAGE EXERCISE 6: Numbers 36 to 45

Read Advert A and choose a title from the box for each paragraph.
Mark its letter, A to F, on Answer Sheet B.

Advert A*We like to stay at home! Do you?36.

Sometimes we have to go far away and we have to get there quickly. So, we fly.
But are all the trips we take really necessary?

37.

Nowadays, 10,000 planes make the air dirty every day.
Their fumes rise high in the atmosphere and cause more problems.

38.

We can travel faster by plane, but do we enjoy the trip?
What can we see from 10,000 metres high, flying 800 Km/h?

39.

Recent worries about security mean a long wait to go through expensive machines.
They x-ray your bag and your shoes!
But who do you think pays for that? You do!

40.

Don't forget that people aren't the only travellers.
Diseases travel, too.
If you get ill today and you fly tomorrow,
you might make lots of other people ill too.

Does all this make you think?
If it does, and you want share these thoughts with your friends, write to us today at Homebodies, Inc., the anti-travel organization.
And please, DON'T send us the letter by airmail!

Now read Advert B.

Use the two adverts to answer the questions below.

In which advert is each idea found?

On your Answer Sheet, mark A if the idea is only in Advert A, B if it is only in Advert B or C if it is in both.

This idea ....

is found in:

41. contacting them
42. having medical problems
43. meeting new people
44. eating different food
45. paying a lot of money

- A. Advert A – 'We like to stay at home! Do you?'
- B. Advert B – 'Have you travelled this year?'
- C. Both adverts

- A. Long Queues
- B. Dirty Air
- C. Necessary Travel?
- D. Health Dangers
- E. Too Many Places
- F. Fast But Not Fun

Advert B*Have you travelled this year?*Have you ...

visited another country?
learnt another language?
met the local people?
enjoyed a meal with new friends?
tasted new and strange dishes?
returned home tired but happy?

If not, give us a call.
